

Testimonials

We had a fantastic experience working with The Detective Project. We wanted a team building activity that was well organised, interesting and fun, and they certainly delivered - the staffed loved it! We definitely recommend their services.

M.B Business West

The timing of the day and each phase of evidence and materials presented to us were executed very well, your facilitation was excellent and we had great fun unravelling the crime!

Corporate Event Essex

Inspired and original, a great way to get the team working together and thinking outside the box.

G.L. Bristol

Thank you so much for all your efforts last night. It was great to meet you. We were absolutely delighted with the event - you dealt really well with the huge number of people and everyone seemed to be getting really into it.

S Umbo Science Museum, London

Excellent. Fun. Too short! Excellent and thought provoking.

CEO found dead in board room

The search is on to identify the victim's attacker

The former CEO of a major company was found dead in the boardroom of the company's headquarters.

Joseph Hughes, chairman of the company, was found on the floor of the boardroom, the unrelated death of a senior director, Ian Staines, earlier this week. The body of the 55-year-old, who was married with two children, was found in the boardroom by a security guard approximately 8.00pm.

Mr Hughes's widow, Sarah, is said to have accused some of the top management of driving her husband "into a corner" and that Mr Hughes was under pressure and "very unpopular" with the company's directors.

The company has said that a note from Mr Hughes had been found. The note said that his board of directors had been "corrupted".

"We were not aware of any inappropriate behaviour among the company's directors," said a spokesman. "We are currently investigating whether excessive pressure was put on Mr Hughes ahead of his death. They said he was not aware of any inappropriate behaviour among the company's directors."

About The Detective Project

A new approach to team building

Are you looking for a company event to engage employees at every level? Do you want to improve communication, presentation skills, information analysis, leadership and decision making capabilities in your employees?

The USP of The Detective Project is that we will get your team working together – no one can resist the challenge of being a detective. We will bring your staff together in teams, to creatively solve a crime scene investigation and present their findings. But which team will win?

What do we do?

The Detective Project host professionally staged crime scene events for groups of 10-150 people that can be held anywhere. Our award winning investigations can be adopted to fit your own unique requirements. We guarantee fun-filled, inclusive team development exercises designed to engage everyone involved, encouraging team-work and problem solving with a healthy dose of inter-team competition thrown in.

Cases

Solved

The Orchard School, Bristol (Staff Development Day)

Take 150 teachers expecting the usual Powerpoint presentation on raising achievement levels.

Add the discovery of a body in a classroom. Task all staff to work in groups to investigate and solve the crime within a limited timeframe. Result: A memorable, fun day that gave staff the opportunity to be enthusiastic, competitive and to grow without everyday constraints.

Berkeley Castle, Gloucestershire (Team Building Day)

How to bring together 20 staff and improve inter-departmental communication.

We organised a team challenge that drew together everyone from gamekeepers to the owners and directors of the business, getting them to work and communicate as teams. A fun event that achieved so much more than the usual team building challenges.
