

Whodo - The case of the missing sandwich

"Mason – someone's taken my sandwich out of the fridge!" said Perry to his workmate and friend.

"Was is one of your homemade specials?" asked Mason.

"No, I ran out of time, I bought a BLT at Victoria on the way into the office – some people!"

"Well it won't be Dawn" replied Mason "she's gone vegetarian."

"I saw Tim hanging round the kitchen earlier" said Mason.

"Nah, it won't be him" said Perry. "Anyway, his mum always makes him a packed lunch and I saw his lunchbox in the fridge when I put my sarni in there."

"Do you think Gareth is the culprit?" asked Perry. "He always looks like he needs a feed."

"Tim was complaining about him earlier" said Mason. "He's been going on all morning about how he's going out to lunch at a steakhouse with Chris."

"What about David?" said Mason.

"No" replied Perry "Much as I don't trust him, he's been in a seminar with Jennifer since first thing this morning."

"I've just remembered" said Mason "Lee came up from the warehouse to have lunch with Dawn at her desk. I bet if we look in her bin we'll find an M&S wrapper - then we've got our man!"

"Yes we have. How could you Mason?" asked Perry.
